

Introduction

Maybe you've filed your US expat tax return (congrats!) or need to make a payment in advance of the deadline to avoid any interest from being accrued. You may be wondering how to make payments if you owe taxes to the IRS— so here's what you need to know.

Paying Federal Taxes

When paying your Federal taxes, you can:

- Have electronic funds withdrawn when e-filing
- Mail a check
- Pay online through a bank transfer or with a credit/debit card at

<https://www.irs.gov/payments>

Paying State Taxes

When paying your state taxes, you can:

- Mail a check
- Have electronic funds withdrawn when e-filing

Additionally, some states have web payment options on their own websites and others have contracted with www.officialpayments.com to handle tax payments. For specific details regarding payments in your state, take a look at this chart:
